PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR. FRANKLIN, May 24.—There is great exeltement in the little village of Utica, four miles north of this city, over the miraculous cure of Mary Dewey, who for three years has been bed-ridden, suffering terribly from spinal disease and spasms. On Sunday last Mrs. E. Fenton, of Sharpsville, a faith cure doctoress, visited her, and after several seasons of prayers, in which Mrs. Dewey joined, she created a great sensation among those she created a great sensation among those present by getting out of bed, dressing herself, and walking about the house, apparently as well as ever and completely cured.

Since last Sunday there have been no signs of the disease which had troubled her so long. Since her cure she has been visited by many of her friends and her home is thronged with visitors. She holds religious services each evening, and the lame and the halt, the sick and the afflicted, for miles around have flocked to see her and learn for themselves the story of her wonderful cure. Mrs. Fenton is still in Utica, and a number of sick persons have placed themselves under her care.

THE DEPENSE OPENS.

Public Opinion Now Favors Baer in the Incendiary Case.

PRPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. GREENSBURG, May 24.—The defense in the mill burning case opened this moraling. The most important witnesses were Charles Lonergan, of Connellsville; Mrs. Lewis, of Pittsburg. and Dispatcher Trump, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, Lonergan testified that Fox told him in the Uniontown jail that he (Fox) was in Connellsville the night of the 17th of July. and Mrs. Lewis, an employe of Dr. Frank's bathrooms in Pittsburg, testified that Richardson, whom it was alleged was with Fox when he burned the mill, was not away from the city that night, and she remembers this distinctly, because of the death of her child just one week before.

In giving testimony Fox stated that on the night the mill was burned, which occurred about 12 o'clock, he came here with Richardson and they took a Southwest train for Pittsburg, arriving there about 6 P. M. Dispatcher Trump testified that nothing came in from the Southwest road that night. Frank Baer was placed on the stand this afternoon, but nothing of importance was developed. The case is growing in interest hourly, and public opinion, which has been strongly against Baer since his arrest, seems to be changing.

FURTHER EVIDENCE.

Two More Independent Companies Will Refine the Lima Crude.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 LIMA, May 24.-Mr. Albert Neilson, an old refiner of many years experience, has been here since the first of January, engaged in making refined oil of the despised Lima crude. In an interview to-day he said the results ob-

In an interview to-day he said the results obtained are thoroughly satisfactory. He has been able to remove every particle of sulphur from the oil, but says the expense is considerably greater than that incurred in treating Pennsylvania oil. The Ohio oil is very rich in lubricating oil.

He says there are over 20 methods of treating Ohio oil successfully. Of course the Standard had an object in saying that it was impossible to refine the oil, the object being to obtain the control of the Ohio field, which they have done. He says the Standard have known all along that the oil could be refined, as he had refined it for them at their works in Baltimore, where he was in their employ for many years.

As a result of the experiments made here a large refinery will be built by two of the independent companies, of which Mr. Nellson will have full charge.

WHAT WAGES MINERS ARE PAID. None Beceive Over $700 a Year, and Many

Are Paid but $200. PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. HARRISBURG, May 24.-Prof. Bolles. Chief of the Bureau of Statistics, has adopted a new method of ascertaining the average wages paid in the coal mines of this State. He forwarded to the different collieries blanks in which the wages of ten miners in each colliery receiving the highest amount and ten receiving the lowest amount were asked to be recorded. In this way the wages of about 20,000 miners have been received at the Department of Internal Affairs, from about 130 collieries.

The wages of the best paid miners amount to over $700 a year and the lowest to $200. The average in the authracite and bituminons regions, Prof. Boiles says, will be about $500. A considerably lower figure prevails in the bituminous than in the anthracite
